OPTIONAL PROGRAM COSTS:

FOCUS LEARNING CENTER:

FCS is unique in that we also accept students who have intellectual disabilities, autism, Down syndrome, etc... Students in grades up to eighth may spend part of their day in the regular classroom and part of their day in a resource class targeted to their specific learning needs. As these students approach ninth grade, they may enter the Focus Learning Center which concentrates on general academics and life skills. Careful planning and review of the students' past academic performance and current cognitive and achievement levels will assist in making this decision. A child must be accepted into this program. Please refer to the website for more information about the program and possible tax credit breaks.

FLC Tuition (full time student) $10,405

SPECIALIZED LEARNING CENTER:

Students who have learning disabilities generally have IQ scores that fall in the average to above average range. The types of learning disabilities that we have addressed are dyslexia, language impairments, and difficulties with reading mechanics and comprehension, math reasoning and calculation, written expression, oral expression, and central auditory processing. Other challenges include attention deficit hyperactivity disorders (AD/HD), high functioning autism, and Asperger's syndrome. For an additional fee, we offer small group resource classes for students who need additional help to catch up to grade level or who would benefit from a small group environment with a teacher who specializes in students with learning disabilities. Tutorial Study Hall is also available if the student can keep up in the regular classroom but needs the daily assistance offered there. A child must be accepted into this program. Please refer to the website for more information about the program and possible tax credit breaks.

Current families need to apply no later than May 1st to receive assistance for the following year.

GENERAL FINANCIAL POLICIES:

1. A student will not be enrolled in FCS if there is a previous financial obligation to another school. Before any student will be admitted to the school, all previous tuition, fees, financial obligations, etc. must be liquidated.
2. Any account that is outstanding 60 days after due date may cause the student to be suspended until payment is brought up to date.
3. The majority of the student textbooks are rentals for the year. Students will be charged for damaged books. It is advised to cover books according to the teacher's policies.
4. At the end of a semester, if there are any financial obligations, fees, late charges, unreturned books, unreturned laptops and chargers, unreturned uniforms, etc., the child will not be allowed to take his/her final examinations, participate in Kindergarten or High School graduation, or any other activity involving FCS. We will not report a grade for that semester or release student records for that student.
