OPTIONAL PROGRAM COSTS:

FOCUS LEARNING CENTER:

FCS is unique in that we accept students who have intellectual disabilities, Autism, Down syndrome, etc... Students will receive core class instruction in small resource classes targeted to their specific learning needs. Students will participate in elective classes as well as inclusion opportunities throughout the day. When these students enter sixth grade, they may enter the Focus Learning Center which concentrates on general academics and life skills. Careful planning and review of the students' past academic performance and current cognitive and achievement levels will assist in making this decision. These students would be eligible to receive a diploma in an Occupational Course of Study.

FLC Tuition (full time student) $10,830

SPECIALIZED LEARNING CENTER:

Students who have learning disabilities generally have IQ scores that fall in the average to above average range. The types of learning disabilities that we have addressed are dyslexia, language impairments, and difficulties with reading mechanics and comprehension, math reasoning and calculation, written expression, oral expression, and central auditory processing. Other challenges include attention deficit hyperactivity disorders (AD/HD), high functioning autism, and Asperger's syndrome. For an additional fee, we offer small group resource classes for students who need additional help to catch up to grade level or who would benefit from a small group environment with a teacher who specializes in students with learning disabilities. Tutorial Study Hall is also available if the student can keep up in the regular classroom but needs the daily assistance offered there. A child must be accepted into this program. Please refer to the website for more information about the program and possible tax credit breaks.
